

Rob Parker
of Momentum Consulting

I can help!

- MAXIMISE YOUR CHANCE OF SUCCESS
 - by ensuring that the very best responses are submitted
- TAKE AWAY THE PAIN
 - of having to handle the tender response process, freeing you up to handle your day to day business challenges
- AVOID THE PITFALLS
 - by guiding you through the tendering process

Tender Services

Do you have to respond to formal tenders?

- ITTs
- PQQs
- RFQs / RFIs / RFPs etc.etc.

These can be really demanding!

... both on your time, and in terms of submitting the best response.

Formal tenders are deadline driven, and don't tend to arrive when you conveniently have time to spare – as if you ever have time to spare! It is essential that each question is answered in the right way, and that the response is formulated in a way that best matches the requirements of the tendering body. Not submitting the very best response will result in dropping points, and as a consequence may mean failure to reach the next stage of the tendering process.